

DESIREE VAN TOOR

METAPHYSICAL ASTROLOGER | INDEPENDENT RESEARCHER

BRIEF INTRODUCTION

Desiree van Toor is an independent researcher and metaphysical astrologer specializing in the convergence of cosmology, archaeology and astronomy. Her work explores the evolution of human consciousness, cosmic cycles and the possible astronomical knowledge embedded in prehistoric cultures, supported by more than twenty years of fieldwork and independent study.

BIOGRAPHY

Van Toor works across archaeology, astronomy, metaphysical astrology and consciousness research. Her investigations focus on recurring patterns between celestial cycles, ancient monuments, mythological traditions and human development. Over the past two decades, her fieldwork has taken her to archaeological and culturally significant locations including Piedra Pintada and Volcán Barú in Panama, the Bosnian Pyramid complex, Göbekli Tepe, Peru, Bolivia and South Africa.

Her current research includes the Sedna chronology hypothesis, archaeo-astronomical alignments, prehistoric cosmology, reincarnation and memory, and the role of distant celestial bodies in long-term cycles of consciousness. Her independent publications are registered through her international ORCID profile.
